What are the organizations responsible for constructing and maintaining Internet networks called?

a) Internet Service Users

b) Internet Backbone Providers

c) Internet Service Providers (ISPs)

d) Internet Infrastructure Operators Correct answer: c) Internet Service Providers (ISPs)

Tier-1 ISPs are primarily known for:

a) Regional network operations

b) Operating access networks

c) Providing international high-speed backbone networks

d) Managing domain name registrations Correct answer: c) Providing international high-speed backbone networks

APEX CAMPUS

What is an access ISP in the context of Internet networking?

a) An organization that provides Internet access to individual homes and businesses

b) A specialized type of router used by ISPs

c) A government agency responsible for Internet regulation

d) A type of mobile phone carrier Correct answer: a) An organization that provides Internet access to individual homes and businesses

What term is used to describe the devices that individual users connect to access ISPs?

a) Core systems

b) Domain servers

c) End systems or hosts

d) Routers

Correct answer: c) End systems or hosts

Which technology is described as one of the fastest-growing for connecting end systems to larger networks?

a) Dial-up connections

b) Fiber-optic cables

c) Wireless connections based on WiFi

d) Satellite connections

Correct answer: c) Wireless connections based on WiFi

What is the term used to describe an area within the broadcast range of an access point (AP)?

a) Broadband zone

b) Internet hub

c) Wireless hotspot

d) Data center

Correct answer: c) Wireless hotspot

APEX CAMPUS

In the cellular telephone industry, what are hot spots referred to as?

a) WiFi zones

b) Cells

c) Routers

d) Access points

Correct answer: b) Cells

What is the primary purpose of IP addresses in the Internet?

a) Identifying users

b) Providing domain names

c) Allocating network resources

d) Assigning unique identifying addresses to computers Correct answer: d) Assigning unique identifying addresses to computers

What organization is responsible for allocating blocks of IP addresses to ISPs?

a) Internet Service Providers (ISPs)

b) Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN)

c) Internet Service Users (ISUs)

d) Internet Regulatory Commission (IRC)

Correct answer: b) Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN)

How are IP addresses traditionally represented in dotted decimal notation?

a) In binary format

b) In hexadecimal format

c) In base 10 format

d) In octal format

Correct answer: c) In base 10 format

APEX CAMPUS

What is the purpose of the domain name system (DNS) in the Internet?

a) To encrypt Internet traffic

b) To allocate IP addresses

c) To translate mnemonic domain names to IP addresses

d) To regulate Internet content Correct answer: c) To translate mnemonic domain names to IP addresses

Which organization is responsible for domain name registration and allocation of mnemonic domain names?

a) Internet Service Providers (ISPs)

b) Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN)

c) Domain Hosting Companies (DHCs)

d) Domain Servers (DSs)

Correct answer: b) Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN)

What are top-level domains (TLDs) used for in domain names?

a) Indicating the location of the domain

b) Categorizing the type of organization

c) Determining the domain's age

d) Identifying the domain's owner Correct answer: b) Categorizing the type of organization

In the domain name "eagle.mu.edu," what does "mu" represent?

a) A subdomain

b) A top-level domain

c) A country code TLD

d) A generic TLD

Correct answer: b) A top-level domain

APEX CAMPUS

What does the term "subdomain" refer to in the context of domain names?

a) A domain name with multiple periods

b) A specialized domain for mobile devices

c) An extension of the primary domain

d) A secondary top-level domain Correct answer: c) An extension of the primary domain

How are messages transferred over the Internet?

a) Using mnemonic addresses

b) Using domain names

c) Using IP addresses

d) Using top-level domains Correct answer: c) Using IP addresses

What is the primary function of name servers in the domain name system (DNS)?

a) To register domain names

b) To provide address translation services

c) To host websites

d) To manage TLDs

Correct answer: b) To provide address translation services

What is the term for an individual organization maintaining its own name server for its registered domain?

a) Domain Reseller

b) Domain Registrar

c) Intranet Operator

d) DNS Administrator

Correct answer: d) DNS Administrator

APEX CAMPUS

What is the primary purpose of an analog telephone adapter in VoIP?

a) To connect traditional telephones to digital networks

b) To replace traditional telephones with VoIP phones

c) To provide voice communication similar to traditional telephones

d) To manage domain name registrations Correct answer: a) To connect traditional telephones to digital networks

Which form of VoIP involves using smartphones as broadband-connected hosts on the Internet?

a) VoIP soft phones

b) Analog telephone adapters

c) Embedded VoIP phones

d) Wireless VoIP technology

Correct answer: d) Wireless VoIP technology

APEX CAMPUS